

King's Group
Academies

Members of the Company

Sir Roger Fry CBE

Sir Roger Fry was born in Portsmouth and educated in London and entered the teaching profession. In 1969, he founded King's College, The British School of Madrid. He subsequently founded eight other schools in four countries: The United Kingdom, Spain, Panama and Latvia.

From 1996 to 2011 he was chairman of the Council of British International Schools and is now its President. He served as a Director of the Independent Schools Council for four years. He is a Governor of The Royal Grammar School Worcester, and a member of the Education Advisory Group of the British Council. He holds an Honorary Doctorate from the University of Portsmouth and is an Honorary Fellow of Trinity College Oxford.

In 2012 he was awarded a knighthood for his services to UK Education Internationally.

Sir Roger Chairs the Board of Trustees for King's Group Academies.

King's Education Limited

King's Education Limited is the principal sponsor of the Academy Trust, and is represented by Richard Schofield.

Cllr. Michael John Holloway OBE

Michael John Holloway was British Ambassador to the Republic of Panama between 2011-2013 before leaving the UK's Diplomatic Service to pursue other interests. In addition to being a Board Member of the King's Group, he is currently a Special Representative of the Foreign Secretary, and a District and Town Councillor for the District of Dover, and town of Sandwich respectively.

Charles Ellison

Charles Ellison has enjoyed an extensive career in independent schooling both in the UK and overseas spanning over 25 years. He attended Bradford Grammar School and the University of Warwick, has post-graduate qualifications in Psychology and holds the NPQH (National Professional Qualification for Headship). He is presently the Headmaster of Scarborough College, a co-educational boarding and day IB World School from pre-school to sixth form and was formerly Deputy Headmaster at King's College (Madrid).

Prior to his senior management position in Madrid, Charles held the roles of Head of Sixth Form and Houseparent at Pangbourne College, moving from the Royal Grammar School (Guildford) in 2005 where he was a Housemaster and Head of Department. This followed after two years as Head of Department at Hillcrest School (Nairobi) and five years as Teacher of English and Physical Education at Princethorpe College. He has extensive experience as an examiner and as a coach of many sports, especially rugby having worked for Harlequins as Head of their Elite Player Development Programme for ten years.

Charles is an inspector of British schools both within the UK and overseas with the Independent Schools' Inspectorate and has published a number of educational articles on topics ranging from 'Building Character in Modern Education' to 'Surviving the Ordeal of an Inspection'.

Henry Scriven

Bishop Henry Scriven has been ordained in the Anglican Church for 43 years and has served in London, Argentina, USA, Spain and Thailand. He was the Suffragan Bishop in Europe 1995-2001, Assistant Bishop of Pittsburgh 2001-2008 and Latin America Director of the Church Mission Society 2009-2017. His two children attended King's College in Madrid (Henry was on the School Council) before going on to successful careers in the UNDP (Joel works with reforestation programmes) and in the International Justice Mission (Anna is now a Vice President). Henry's wife, Catherine, is a Primary teacher.